Aims

- At Blacklow Brow Primary School we set high standards and aspirations and aim to provide quality care and education for 'all' of our children, thereby giving them a strong foundation for their future learning.
- Blacklow Brow provides a broad and balanced curriculum for all children. We believe that all children, including those with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities, are entitled to full and equal access to all areas of the curriculum. We believe in providing children with a safe, stimulating, and supportive learning environment where the aspirations and achievements of all are valued and celebrated.

Definition of Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)

As defined by the Special Educational Needs & Disabilities (SEND) Code of Practice: for 0-25 years (January 2015), 'A child or young person has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

For children aged two or more, special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to or different from that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools, maintained nursery schools, mainstream post-16 institutions or by relevant early years providers.' (p.15).

Some pupils with SEND may have a disability, '.... a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities' (Equality Act 2010) this includes children with long term medical conditions and sensory impairments. However, not all children with a disability will require special educational provision. A child with asthma or diabetes, for example, may not have special educational needs. Children with a disability requiring special educational provision will be covered by the SEN definition.

As a school our aims are;

- To create an environment that meets the special educational needs of each child and celebrates the achievements of all children.
- To ensure that children with special educational needs are identified as early as possible and that their individual needs are assessed and the necessary provision/resources are put in place.
- To ensure all staff understand their roles and responsibilities in providing for children with Special Educational Needs, and that every teacher is a teacher of children with Special Educational Needs. We place a strong emphasis on Quality First Teaching to encompass the different learning styles and needs of all children, including those with SEND.
- To enable all children to have full access to all elements of the school curriculum.
- To ensure that parents/carers knowledge of their children informs the identification and assessment process, and value their contribution in supporting their child's learning.
- To liaise closely with outside agencies to ensure accurate assessment and appropriate provision. Agencies include: an independent educational psychologist; Knowsley Educational Psychology Service; Knowsley Special Educational Needs Advisory Team; CAMHS; Health visitor/School Nurse service; Speech and Language Therapy Service; Occupational Therapy Service; Sensory Service
- To ensure confidentiality of children's information (Please refer to schools Data Protection Policy and Procedures).

Special Educational Needs and Disabilities identification and the graduated response to SEND provision.

In our school we aim to offer excellence and choice to all our children, whatever their ability or needs. We have high expectations of all our children. We aim to achieve this through the removal of barriers to learning and participation. We want all our children to know that they are a valued part of our school community and are supported to reach their potential.

The school does not discriminate against the admission of pupils on the grounds of Special Educational Needs and/or disability where their learning difficulty or disability can be catered for within a mainstream setting.

Special Educational Needs covers a wide range of learning difficulties and Disabilities including; General Learning Difficulties; Specific Learning Difficulties; Social Emotional and Mental Health Difficulties; Physical and Medical Difficulties; Sensory Impairment; Social and Communication Difficulties; Speech and Language difficulties. Within each of these areas children may be affected at different levels ranging from mild to profound difficulties, or have co-occurring difficulties. We aim to identify any difficulties as early as possible through monitoring and assessment by class teachers, the SENDCo and the Senior Leadership Team.

At Blacklow Brow Primary we aim to ensure that provision meets the needs of all learners. This includes 'Quality First Teaching' for all pupils and may involve additional support and/or access to differentiated resources or teaching strategies within class, or access to specific interventions on a 1-1 basis or within a small group, within or outside of the classroom. The school has a behaviour policy which provides guidelines for procedures and strategies to be used with children displaying challenging behaviour. We also have a whole school behaviour system, for some children with social, emotional and mental health difficulties strategies and procedures may be modified and altered accordingly to meet their individual needs.

All children are assessed when they join our school, so that we can build upon their prior learning, and plan an appropriate and engaging curriculum for all our children. This also allows for early identification of any difficulties that could impact their education and well-being. We have an assessment schedule which ensures all children are assessed regularly throughout the year in order to identify children's strengths and difficulties and adjust provision accordingly.

Class teachers are responsible for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class, including those with SEND. We place a high emphasis on the importance of a 'quality first' approach to supporting SEND learners. Teachers develop a thorough knowledge of each pupil, their preferred learning style, abilities, interests and difficulties in order to plan appropriately to engage and support them in achieving their potential. They closely monitor children's progress and SEND support plans are reviewed termly with parents, these include information about the child's strengths and difficulties and their individual targets and provision. We monitor the quality of teaching to identify areas for development. Teaching staff are encouraged to undertake observations within other classes as part of their ongoing professional development, in order to self-monitor and share good practice.

If a teacher identifies that a child is experiencing difficulties in any area, which is impacting on their education or well-being they will share this information with the SENDCo. We will consider the child's current abilities and difficulties using Knowsley's Graduated Approach and respond to each individual's needs accordingly. We will also consider other issues that may be impacting a child's progress such as; attendance and punctuality; health and welfare; EAL; disability. Where any of these factors are impacting upon a child's progress we will work closely with the child's parents/carers and other professionals to remove barriers to learning and safeguard the child's well-being.

Where our assessments show that a child may have special educational needs, we use a range of strategies that make full use of all available classroom and school resources. The child's class teacher will offer differentiated strategies and support within the classroom to support the child in making progress towards their individual targets. The class teacher will collect evidence of their strengths and areas of difficulties, this may be; samples of work; relevant checklists; school-based assessments; notes on responses to learning/social situations.

If assessments show that a child is continuing to experience difficulties after a term of support, the teacher and SENDCo will assess the child for progression to SEND support stage. At this stage the SENDCo, in consultation with the class teacher, the child's parents/carers and the Senior Leadership Team will consider additional resources/interventions that could be provided internally, or further assessment or support from external agencies. With parent/carer consent, the child will be placed on the SEND register. We support children in a manner that acknowledges their entitlement to share the same learning experiences that their peers enjoy. Wherever possible, we do not withdraw children from the classroom situation. There are times though, when to maximise learning, we ask the children to work in small groups, or one-to-one outside the classroom with a member of staff. Parental permission will be requested before any external agencies are consulted for assistance.

Children at SEND support level will have a SEND support plan which will include the child's strengths, their individual needs and strategies that can be used to support them. SEND support plans will be reviewed termly by class teachers, with support from the SENDCo if required, these will state the child's targets and necessary provision to enable them to access the curriculum and make progress. The plans will be reviewed termly by the class teacher and parents and carers. At the start of each school year parents will be asked to provide information in regards to their child's strengths, difficulties and medical needs, in addition to their views on how best to support their child and need to know information about their child/family, this information is used for the purpose of planning to meet each child's individual needs.

Advice may be sought from the school Educational Psychologist on how best to support the needs of individuals, permission will always be requested from Parents/Carers and they will have the opportunity to meet with the Educational Psychologist to share their views in relation to the child's strengths and difficulties. If the child continues to demonstrate significant cause for concern, with long term and pervasive difficulties impacting upon their education and well-being, the SENDCo will seek parental permission to request statutory assessment by the Local Authority (LA). A range of written evidence about the child will support the request including; the views of parents/carers; samples of children's work and assessments; Reports from external agencies; and the views of the child.

Children on the SEND register are monitored closely by their class teacher, the SENDCo and the SLT. If children are making sufficient progress and are able to access the curriculum with a greater degree of independence, support will be gradually reduced and their progress monitored. Children will be removed from the register when they are able to access the curriculum independently at the appropriate level.

Supporting children and Families

The school works closely with parents to support children with special educational needs. We encourage an active partnership through an ongoing dialogue with parents. The home-school agreement and behaviour promise are central to this. Parents have much to contribute in meeting the needs of their child and in supporting their child's academic, social and emotional development and well-being. It is expected that parents/carers support their child's learning at home through regular reading and supporting them to complete set homework.

If parents have concerns in regards to their child they should initially contact the class teacher who will be able to provide information about their child's progress and well-being. If, after meeting with the child's teacher, parents wish to speak to the SENDCo (Mrs Hine) they can telephone the office to make an appointment. The Head teacher (Mr Kenny) can also be seen by appointment.

We have a school council, with members elected from each year group, who meet to feedback the thoughts and ideas of their peers in regards to current practices and events within school. Our SEND support plan also provides the opportunity for children to provide information about themselves, with their parents' support, on their likes, dislikes and how they feel we can best support them within school.
